

Pursuit 2670 Center Console

2005-07

Open

Cuddy

Pursuit got it right with the 2670 Center Console (called the C 260 in 2007), a rock-solid fishing machine from one of the country's most admired boat builders. Offered in open or cuddy configurations, the 2670 ranks among the best boats in her class for quality, engineering and performance. Compared with most 26-footers with their trailerable (without a permit, that is) 8'6" beams, the Pursuit's wider 9'3" beam can be seen in her large cockpit, big console, and generous storage capacity. The helm features a double bench seat, and the standard leaning post includes rod holders and tackle trays. Aft, the transom has a deep 49-gallon livewell and bait prep station in addition to bilge access. The 2670's factory T-top comes with lifejacket storage in the underside, and a wraparound acrylic windshield protects the helm. A large-capacity in-deck fish/storage box is positioned just forward of the transom. The tilt-away console is a nice touch. In the open version, the walk-in console houses a head compartment with marine toilet. In cuddy models, the cabin contains a double berth, marine head, and rod racks. Twin 225hp Yamaha outboards deliver a top speed of about 45 knots.
